Record of Votes

Senators Hardeman, Aikin, Patman and Blanchard asked to be recorded as voting "Nay" on the adoption of the above resolution.

Election of President Pro Tempore Ad Interim

The President announced that the next order of business was the election of a President Pro Tempore Ad Interim.

Senator Blanchard nominated the Honorable D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur to be President Pro Tempore of the Senate Ad Interim.

Senators Wilson, Schwartz, Watson, Mauzy, Strong, Patman, Herring, Connally, Bates, Christie, Hall, Bernal, Cole, Aikin and Kennard seconded the nomination of Senator Harrington for the President Pro Tempore Ad Interim.

The President appointed Senators Watson, Mauzy and Strong as tellers to take up and count the ballots.

The tellers reported that Senator Harrington had received twenty-nine votes with one present and not voting and the President declared him duly elected as President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the First Called Session of the Sixtieth Legislature.

The President appointed Senators Blanchard, Watson and Schwartz as a committee to escort Senator and Mrs. Harrington to the President's Rostrum.

The President administered the Constitutional Oath of Office to Senator Harrington as President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the First Called Session of the Sixtieth Legislature. He extended best wishes to Senator Harrington and then presented him to the Senate.

The President Pro Tempore Ad Interim then addressed the Senate stating his appreciation for the many nice things said about him and the confidence of the Members in electing him as President Pro Tempore. He further stated that he was looking forward to working with the Senators while serving in the office—one of the highest honors the Members could bestow upon a Member.

The President then presented Mrs. Marie Harrington to the Senate.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 23 with House Amendment

Senator Aikin called S. C. R. No. 23 from the President's table for consideration of the House amendment to the resolution:

The President laid the resolution and the following House amendment before the Senate:

Amend S. C. R. No. 23 by changing the figures "12:00 noon" to "12:45 p.m."

The amendment was read.

Senator Aikin moved that the Senate concur in the House amendment.

The motion prevailed.

Senate Resolution 263

Senator Wilson offered the following resolution:

Whereas, When the year 1968 is adjourned sine die, the Honorable Dorsey B. Hardeman, able Senator from San Angelo, will depart from the Texas Senate 30 years after beginning his memorable and unparalleled legislative service to the people of Texas; and

Whereas, This distinguished Senator is without peer in the memory of his colleagues, and stands with the tallest in statesmanship, ability, and integrity; and

Whereas, Dorsey B. Hardeman was born in 1902 in Henderson, Tennessee, the son of the late N. B. Hardeman, noted Church of Christ evangelist and educator, and the late Mrs.

Joanna Tabler Hardeman; he was graduated with a law degree from Vanderbilt University and subsequently served as Assistant Attorney General of Tennessee from 1929 to 1930; and then in December, 1932, he moved from the Pulaski Post Office neighborhood to begin his great love affair with the State of Texas when he arrived in San Angelo, the city where he has since resided with his wife, Geneva, and sons, Mark and Bryan; and

Whereas, Poor health forced him to leave his native state, his doctors having advised him that a fatal malady condemned him to a life of brief duration; his presence here today is living testimony both to the salubrious climate of West Texas and to the ancient quotation that "only the good die young"; and

Whereas, In biographies of famous Tennessee immigrants to Texas, including David Crockett, Sam Houston, and Sam Rayburn, the one common trait is a great and abiding love for their adopted land; so it is with Dorsey Hardeman and Texas: his courtship of the Lone Star State actually began with his deep affection for the city he claimed as his own—San Angelo—where his love was manifested by civic activities and leadership, bringing about his election as mayor only four years after his arrival there; and

Whereas, That big heart of his, soon encompassing all 262,840 square miles of the entire State, he resolved to serve in the Texas Legislature; in 1938, just six years after buying his first Texas hat and wearing his first spurs, he was elected to the Texas House of Representatives, his initial term in the 46th Legislature, convening in January, 1939; and

Whereas, The only interruption of his legislative tenure came shortly after the outbreak of World War II, when he resigned to enlist as a private in the United States Army; he was discharged with the rank of captain and within a few months was elected to the Texas Senate, serving continuously in this distinguished Body since that time and writing more law than any other single Legislator in modern times; and

Whereas, The pages of the Senate Journal on the March 2nds of odd-numbered years crackle and roar with accounts of the victories of the Texans over the Mexican forces, as recounted and interpreted by the Senator from Tom Green, and because of his insistence, the Texas Declaration of Independence is read in the Senate every March 2nd, and the Confederacy's accomplishments are noted because Senator Hardeman insists on observing the birthdays of Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis; and

Whereas, The Chamber of the Senate will not soon ring out with edifying flamboyant prose and poetry that characterize Senator Hardeman's orations as he illustrates his speeches with the wisdom of the ages; and

Whereas, This outstanding Legislator is a brilliant lawyer with the sharp wit and endurance that would do credit to Sam Houston, one of the San Angeloan's heroes, who, like Hardeman, boasted a Texas-Tennessee heritage; Senator Hardeman's knowledgeable hand has guided Texas conservatives to many victories in the upper House, his foes and advocates alike respecting his resourceful leadership, his ability to probe to the root of an issue and define it, his boundless knowledge of constitutional law, and his true scholarship in history—Texas, Confederate, and American—which has elevated him to honorary life membership in the Texas State Historical Association; the Distinguished Service Medal of the Texas Heritage Foundation in recognition of "Distinguished Meritorious Public Service in Preserving the Texas Heritage," the Sons of the American Revolution; Sons of the Republic of Texas; Order of the Knights of San Jacinto; Sons of the Confederate Veterans; and many other worthy orders of State and military service; and

Whereas, Through the years as with all great men, he has acquired his share of enemies by his relentless and devastating opposition, but in letting "the devil take the hindmost," he has gained supporters, steadfast and admiring; and has always been one to awake a woolgathering Senator; and

Whereas, Senator Hardeman, one of the two last officeholders from the ranks of the "immortal 56" of the House of Representatives who thwarted Governor O'Daniel's transaction tax plan in 1939, has presided over most of the major Senate committees many times, currently chairing the Senate's State Affairs Committee and serving as Vice-Chairman of the Finance Committee; his leadership having directed the Jurisprudence Committee through many legislative sessions and interims; and

career, the Senator from Tom Green has once again nailed hides to the barn door as the successful sponsor of the Senate (and House) version of the tax bill of 1968; and

Whereas, He frequently differed with those in high places, he put aside all personal grudges when principle was involved; and

Whereas, His leadership in revising the Code of Criminal Procedure was so successful that he passed it through two Regular Sessions, declaring that the first time was just for practice; and

Whereas, The lawbooks of Texas bear the footprints of the famous "clarifying amendments" by the Senator from Tom Green, this guardian of democracy often offering "helpful, corrective amendments" to many bills during debate, and it is generally known that good strong bills can stand one Hardeman amendment, but never two; and

Whereas, Angelo State College joined the names of State colleges through the persistence, perseverance, and perspiration of Senator Hardeman; and the college's creation led to allegations that the statesman was forced to become a politician; and

Whereas, Through the years he has been a constant target of the Fourth Estate, but proudly wears his wounds as a badge of defiance to compromise and intimidation, reminiscent of the soaring eagle being downed by predatory buzzards or, more appropriately perhaps, of the magnificent King of the Jungle being nipped at the heels by the hungry and yapping jackals; his feud with the press is best remembered by his classic statement in the 59th Legislature: "I don't know which is going to ruin us first, communism, socialism, or journalism," the validity of which remark the Senator from Tom Green humbly admits will be determined only by history; and

Whereas, Each of us recognizes that the Senator from Tom Green is living testimony to the truth of the late John F. Kennedy's credo of political life in which he said, "The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood . . . who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and . . . if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat"; and

Whereas, With this Resolution, all animosities are hereby declared null and void, all old wounds between Senator Hardeman and colleagues are well healed and forgotten, the hearts and minds of his 30 fellow Members in the Senate are united in expressing affection, esteem, and respect for him; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the 60th Legislature, 1st Called Session, hereby honor Dorsey B. Hardeman and certify him a true giant of the Texas Senate, a statesman whose contributions and service will live forever in the history of this State; and be it further

Resolved, That this distinguished Texan, this proud Southerner, this great American, the only Democrat whose party membership card bears the signature of the President of the United States, leaves us, his colleagues, with the knowledge that our affection and friendship for him are undimmed and that his image will retain its own special luster as a timeless inspiration.

Senate Resolution 264

Senator Hall offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The Texas Senate today is losing one of its most beloved members and friends, Bruce A. Reagan; and

Whereas, The distinguished Senator from Corpus Christi has devoted many long years of hard work and service to his fellow citizens in District 20; and,

Whereas, This lovable Senator has the rare quality of turning controversial issues into popular ideas and always maintaining his great sense of humor and dry wit throughout all the many tense situations connected with being a Senator; and

Whereas, Bruce Reagan is a successful insurance man in Corpus Christi and is a member of the Lions, V.F.W., Legion, D.A.V., Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, 40 & 8, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Elks, Salvation Army Board; and,

Whereas, He served in the army for three and one half years during World War II and participated in the New Guinea Campaign and other parts of the South Pacific for two years; and,

Whereas, The Senator has had the distinct and unique honor of having been the only man in Texas history to have served as president pro tempore of the Senate for two terms; and

Whereas, The Senator has been an extremely active member of the Legislature, serving as Poet Laureate of the 60th Legislature, and as an avid observer of all action going on in the Senate both coming in and going out; and

Whereas, The Senator is possibly the greatest athlete ever to serve in either Body of the Texas Legislature, having been an All-American basketball player from Athens and having also become world-famous as a baseball player, striking out Al Simmons, Rogers Hornsby, and Pinky Higgins with only nine balls; and

Whereas, The Senator has been the most photogenic Member of the Texas Legislature, generously distributing copies of his lovely visage to all interested persons; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of Texas, by this Resolution convey its gratitude for and its recognition of the devoted service to the people of the State of Texas and especially to the people of the 20th Senatorial District and extend its best wishes to Senator Bruce Reagan, although his colleagues view his departure with a great sense of loss; and, be it further

Resolved, That as he returns to his home and private life, the Senate express deep appreciation for the understanding of his family—his lovely wife, Bobby; his two daughters, Jan and Diane; and his four grandchildren—in sharing him and his time so generously with Members of the Senate and in service of his State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate regrets his going, but hereby extends a standing invitation for him to return to Austin and to this Chamber and visit us as frequently as he has the desire and as his family and business interests will permit and that copies of this Resolution, under the Seal of the Senate be prepared and furnished our esteemed colleague.

Whereas, This capable Senator from Dallas was elected to the House of Representatives in 1964 and in 1966 the people from District No. 16 sent him to the Senate; and

Whereas, During his term in the Texas Senate, Jim Wade gained the admiration and respect of every Member in the Senate; and

In Memory of
Mrs. Mildred Eva Mauzy

(Senate Resolution 258)

Whereas, Close friends and colleagues of Senator Oscar H. Mauzy were deeply saddened to learn of the death of his mother, Mrs. Mildred Eva Mauzy, on Saturday, June 22, 1968; and

Whereas, Mrs. Mauzy, who died at the age of 70, was a resident of Houston, where she had been active in many civic and benevolent organizations: she was a member of the North Star Chapter No. 651, Order of the Eastern Star; the National Association of Retired Civil Employees; and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen Auxiliary, Valentine Lodge No. 770; and

Whereas, She was the devoted mother of eight children, including two daughters, Mrs. Mildred M. Burdick of Austin and Mrs. Anna Lassman of Victoria; and six sons, the late David Bartholomew Mauzy of Houston, Senator Oscar H. Mauzy of Dallas, George L. Mauzy of Corpus Christi, and Harry L. Mauzy, Albert J. Mauzy, and Fred K. Mauzy, all of Houston; and

Whereas, The Senate of the State of Texas wishes to recognize this fine gentlewoman, whose broad interests and enthusiasm were dedicated to the service of her family, her friends, and those less fortunate; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the 60th Legislature, 1st Called Session, by this Resolution recognize the great loss to this State by the death of Mrs. Mildred Eva Mauzy, a distinguished Texas woman, the mother of our fellow member in the Texas Senate; and, be it further
